Old Business:
Discussion and update on Walnut Lane:
Senior Projects Manager Kaitlin Myers provided a presentation updating the Council on the Walnut Lane development. She explained that the current site plan developed by Architectural Squared has 66 units, but that number may need to be closer to 80 for the project to pencil out. She said that they will need to increase the number of parking spaces because they do not meet the PAD or R4 codes. She also explained the current challenges of the existing site including aging and dilapidated units and expensive repairs and maintenance of the units. She said that she and other staff meet regularly to discuss ways to make the units safe and habitable for the current tenants and told the Council that they are posting an invitation for bids to determine the feasibility of purchasing manufactured housing units to replace existing trailers. She explained that this option would be a short-term or midterm solution until the final site is developed but said residents need immediate, safe, habitable housing and every solution will take a substantial financial investment.

Discussion: Mayor Niehaus expressed concern about the resale value and insurability of the homes once they are relocated from Walnut Lane. Councilmembers asked if it was possible to replace some trailers and repair others. They also asked how many units are owned by the City and if some residents could qualify to move into the MAPS housing project, if park models were considered, and how much money is available for the project. Mayor Niehaus asked if temporary rezoning was considered to allow residents to live in recreational vehicles for immediate temporary housing. She also suggested researching modular construction and modifying the invitation for bid to include modular construction for the site.
